MINISTER CONGER SPEAKS.

SAYS CHINESE GOVERNMEMT DID IT

Forces Lead by the Confidential Advisers of the Emperor—The Boxers Have No Arms and Could Do Nothing With the Government Which Has Been Using Them As Tools.

Pekin, Aug. 21.—Minister Conger is the authority for the statement that the entire movement is purely one by the Chinese government, the Boxers being used merely as a pretext. He says that the Boxers have no guns and can do little.

Minister Conger said: The imperial troops here were led by the confidential advisor of the Empress. They tried to annihilate us the day before the relief column reached us. The Tsung-Li-Yamen sent us word that orders had been issued to its officers to stop the firing under pain of death. Despite this the Chinese opened fire and continued all day. We should probably have succumbed had not the relieving column arrived when it did. More than two thousand shells fell among us in eleven days.

SACRED CITY HAS FALLEN.

Admiral Buuce Says Allies Entered the Sacred City on the 17th—The City of Pekin.

By Wire to the Telegram.

London, Aug. 21—The Sacred or forbidden city, the residence of the Emperor of China, has fallen. Admiral Bunce cables the Admiralty from Taku on the 19th saying that the allies entered the sacred city on the 17th.

THE CITY OF PEKIN.

Pekin comprises practically four cities in one. In extent of area it is about the size of New York city. The four segments of it are the Chinese city, the Tartar City, the Imperial city and the Forbidden city. The last is the "inner city" mentioned in Admiral Bunce's dispatch above, and is the residence of the Empress Dowager and the seat of the imperial court Nobody is allowed within its massive walls except by the special permission of the Emperor or Empress Dowager. The foreigners who have entered its gates are comparatively few in number. The Imperial city is occupied only by the highest Chinese officials and members and attaches of the imperial court. Further information as to the reported bombardment will be awaited with interest.

JUDGE BOYD TO CAMPAIGN.

To Speak for McKinley and Roosevelt in This State.

From the following, which is taken from the Washington correspondence of the Charlotte News, it will be seen that Judge James Boyd, is scheduled to take part in the Republican campaign this year:

"Judge James E. Boyd, of North Carolina, accompanied by Mrs. Boyd, is in the city for a few days. They have been to Atlantic City and are now in Washington en route to their home in Greensboro. While in the city they are stopping at the Ebbitt House, which hotel the judge usually makes his headquarters when visiting Washington temporarily. Mr. and Mrs. Boyd, since the appointment of the former as judge of the Federal Court of North Carolina, have given up their residence of this city.

It is said that Judge Boyd will take part in the North Carolina campaign for McKinley this fall, and he may take part in the campaign in the doubtful states."

Chief Scott's Employment Bureau.

People who think police officers are not written to on anything save official business are badly mistaken. Chief Scott receives all kinds of communications. In his mail this morning there was a letter from a gentleman in Asheville, saying he wished to employ several good bench men to work in a machiee shop for $1.75 a day, and asking the Chief to look him up several good men.

Mr. Scott is thinking of establishing an employment bureau in connection with police headquarters.

STARS AND STRIPES ON WALL.

Though the Russians Disregarded the Agreement the Americans First Planted Their Flag.

By Wire to The Telegram

American Legation, Pekin Aug. 14, via. Shanghai, Aug. 21.—The British, Russians, and Americans are in the city. The Legation people are safe. During the siege 57 persons have been killed, some hundred odd wounded, and there has been considerable sickness.

The Russians disregarded the agreement of the commanders of the allies and attacked last night single handed, whereupon all the forces advanced. Two companies of the Fourteenth United States Infantry climbed the east outer wall and hoisted the Stars and Stripes at 11 o'clock. The Japanese kept up a vigorous bombardment and all the troops are now inside and are advancing toward the wall of the Tartar City.

HUMMEL GUILTY.

Judgment Suspended Upon Payment of Costs—Mr. Wilkinson Convicted of Retailing.

Judge Hoke is losing no time in disposing of the cases on the criminal docket of the Superior Court. The Hummel case, wherein a father was indicted for assauting and shooting his son last February, was taken up and disposed of yesterday afternoon. Before the adjournment of court the jury brought in a verdict. Judgment was suspended upon the payment of costs, amounting to about $25.

This morning one of the cases against Mr. Ben Wilkinson, charged with retailing, was taken up. Mr. Wilkinson runs a government distillery south of the city and is allowed to sell whisky in quantities of one gallon and more. It is said that he would set aside a gallon for a customer, who would pay for it as he drank it. This was adjudged a violation of the law.

This afternoon another case against Mr. Wilkinson was heard, in which he was also found guilty.

CONGRESSMAN FOWLER LICKED.

Badly Beaten at Clinton Yesterday and George Butler is Coming in for a Share.

The Goldsboro correspondent of the Charlotte Observer yesterday says:

Passengers arriving here tonight say that ex-Congressman Fowler was badly beaten at Clinton today, and that George Butler, a brotner of Senator Butler, will fare equally as bad if he does not retract certain statements charged to him.

At the Populist indignation meeting at Clinton Saturday, Butler paid his respects to his red shirt friends, making a characteristic harrangue. There were present all the Populists of the surrounding country, who cheered him to the echo. Fleet Rose Cooper also spoke.

AN OLD PUBLICATION.

Mr. Davis the Possessor of a Book Printed 265 Years Ago.

The Telegram has been shown by Mr. J. B. Davis a very old and rare book. Its title is "The Gospel History From the Text of the Four Evangelists." The imprint shows that it was published in Edinburgh, Scotland, in the year 1635—265 years ago. Though the pages are yellow with age, the printing is distinct and the binding still secure. The book is printed in the old style of the printer's art, when f's were used for s's. The author was Robert Wait, minister of Galston.

The book is indeed a rare curiosity, fit to adorn the shelf of a museum.

Painfully Injured.

Ed., the little son of Mr. and Mrs. Charles Hendrix, who reside on Hendrix street, suffered a painful injury yesterday. While at play he jumped from a fence, running a small piece of timber through his foot, making a very painful wound. Some of the ligaments of the foot were torn, and it will be some time before the little fellow will be able to walk.

To Paint the Town.

Messrs. John T. Rees and Harper Bond, of the Rees & Bond Sign Works, go to Danville tomorrow to paint the town preparatory for the big carnival the first week in October. They will paint signs and banners and make designs for floats.

DESTRUCTIVE FIRE.

FLAMES CAUSE GREAT DAMAGE

HIGH POINT ALMOST HELPLESS.

Thousands of Dollars Worth of Property Go Up in Smoke, While the People Stand by Helpless — Conflagration Started in the Steam Laundry and the Entire Business Portion of Town Threatened—Greensboro Wired for Assistance, But the Rain Put the Fire Under Control.

Special Dispatch to the Telegram.

High Point, August 21. — Shortly after noon today fire broke out in Wilkerson's steam laundry, which was destroyed along with the building next door, occupied by J. W. Sechrest, undertaker, and the livery stables of Bodenheimer and Falls. All these were wooden buildings. There was no insurance on the laundry.

The Groome building, in which was situated Sapp's Rackett Store, the Opera House, G. W. Spencers's grocery store, two lodge rooms and W. P. Ragan's law office, was also destroyed.

The fire spread to the Matton and Turner building, in which was situated G. H. Kearns' grocery store. The second floor rooms were occupied by families.

The animals and vehicles in the livery stables were saved. A portion of the goods were saved from the stores, but they were badly damaged. All the buildings named above were completely destroyed.

If it had not been for a hard shower of rain the entire business portion of the town would have been destroyed. By heroic work the blocks south and west of the Groome building were saved, and at this time (4:15) the fire is under control.

The fire was the worst conflagration in the history of the town. During its progress pandemonium reigned, the people being beside themselves with excitement.

Unforunately High Point has no fire department and this added greatly to the alarm. Greensboro was wired for assistance, but the rain storm helped to get the flames under control and the department was stopped as the apparatus was at the depot in Greensboro.

TO ISSUE BONDS.

A Local Board of the American Bonding And Trust Company Organized in Greensboro.

Mr. William M. Rheinhardt, a special agent, and Murray Brothers, the Greensboro representatives of the American Bonding and Trust Company, of Baltimore, have organized a local board for the company in Greensboro. The board is composed of Hon. Charles M. Stedman, Mr. A. B. Kimball, Mr. C. M. Vanstory, of the Vanstory Clothing Company Messrs. Stedman & Kimball will be attorneys for the board.

The local board will have authority to issue and deliver bonds on the same day of application, without the trouble and delay of sending the applications to the head office It will prove very convenient to customers and will be an advantage to the agents.

The Navy Department has been notified by the Triggs, who are building the torpedo boat Stockton, at Richmond, that she will be ready for her builders' trial some time late in the present month. The Stockton is officially known as torpedo boat No. 32, and is scheduled to make 36 knots.

President and Mrs. McKinley will leave Washington Fiday afternoon for Chicago, to attend the annual encampment of the Grand Army. They will remain until Wednesday afternoon.

Special dispatches from Pretoria announce that General Dewet bivouted 15 miles from the city and that Colonel Mahon was briskly engaging him Monday morning.

A DANGEROUS PLACE.

Narrow Escapes From Death on the Summit Avenue Crossing.

A more dangerous place does not exist in Greensboro than the Summit avenue railroad crossing. The location is such that a person passing along the avenue is liable to be run over and killed by a passing train. A train coming through the cut from the north is not easily noticed at this place unless the locomotive whistle be blown.

A gentleman who resides near the crossing tells The Telegram that, while sitting on his front porch yesterday afternoon, he witnessed two very narrow escapes from death. One of the persons would in all probability have been run over had not the gentleman mentioned above called to him from his porch. If people would always use the proper care, probably no one would ever be hurt, but, unfortunately, a great many people are not careful.

There is some talk of having a watchman stationed at this crossing, and it is probable that the Board of Aldermen will take some action in the matter.

A LONG DRY SPELL.

The Hottest August Known in Years—Water Streams Low.

The unbroken spell of hot weather that has prevailed for the past few weeks is the largest on record for many years. It is said that not for the past twenty years has there been a more protracted spell of hot weather, though the temperature has been higher for a short time in the past. During the present month the thermometer has registered above 90 degrees for more than half the time, the average maximum temperature being about 94.

The protracted dry weather has caused alarm as to the water supplies in many places. In this section the streams are lower than they have been for years.

A WEDDING OF INTEREST.

A Surprise in Store for the Greensboro Public—Wait for It.

A most unique and entirely new entertainment will be given at an early date, under the auspices of the Epworth League of West Market Street church. The only and original Tom Thumb wedding is to be reproduced, and the doors of the "Living Library" will be open for the first time for the perusal of the public. Refreshments will be served during the entire evening. A large number of Greensboro's most attractive and popular young people will assist, which already insures a big success.

The time and place will be announced later.

So Far, So Good.

To the Editor of the Telegram:

And, to tell the truth about it, aldermen, you did more than was expected of you in passing the ordinances in regard to spitting on the sidewalks and the nuisance of the loafers. You did well in that, but you stopped too quick, too short, in letting the hog pens repose in the hot burning sun to send forth their perfumes on the evening breeze, loaded with deadly poisonous gases and germs. Consider the matter well, and at your next meeting "take the bull by the horns," "go the whole hog or none." Abolish them forever, and if the act kills you, it will be a glorious death to die for your fellow beings and you will be burried with all the votes of the hog raisers at the next election but with the thanks and admiration of the rest of your constituents. K.

A New York dispatch says that a lot of Bresci buttons have been brought to Paterson N. J., from Newark, and they are finding a ready sale in the anarchist quarters.

LAWNS IN THE SOUTH.

Mr. Brown's Interesting Article in American Gardening—The Normal Lawn as an Illustration.

In the current number of American Gardening Mr. Thomas L. Brown, of the State Normal and Industrial College, has an interesting and instructive communication on "Lawns in the South." The article is illustrated by a cut of a portion of the lawn of the Normal, which was sown last April. In speaking of this beautiful lawn Mr. Brown says:

"The mixture was simply blue grass and white clover. English rye grass is a fast grower but has been discarded on account of its coarse growing nature. We had about one thousand feet of steep bank to seed or to sod. This bank, continuing on another street not showing in cut, was nine feet below the sidewalk. To sod all this would have cost hundreds of dollars. We chanced seeding and were fortunate in getting a long, steady rain immediately following the seeding. In two weeks time these steep banks were green and safe from washing in a heavier rain. The illustration shows the grass partly cut.

"In eight weeks from sowing this lawn we held our class day exercises around the "Class Tree," and although four or five hundred people tramped this baby lawn for a whole afternoon it appeared to be little the worse for wear. The reason was that not more than one-third of the soft matted turf was blue grass at all; the main body of this velvety and hastily made lawn was made up chiefly of two annual grasses that revel in a rich soil and great heat. The first and commonest is crab grass (Elusine Indica), the other not quite so abundant, Phalaris Canariensis.

"Lower down in the valley another coarse annual grass almost threatens the life of the more humble blue grass. This is barnyard grass (Panicum crus-galli).

"The maples noticed along the road are the silver maple (Acer dasycarpum) and are but nine years old from seed. Planted seven years ago they are now over thirty feet in height. In this region, with great heat and a good rainfall, trees make a remarkably rapid growth and there is no excuse for a treeless region. Three years ago the State Normal and Industrial College began the work of permanent improvements in the lands adjacent to the college, which comprise 126 acres."

Open Air Concert Thursday Night.

The Gate City Band will give an open air concert and entertainment on the court house lawn Thursday night The latest and most popular music will be played, and elegant refreshments will be served.

The affair will be managed by Mesdames R. F. Dalton, G. W. Whitsett, G. W. Ward and R. M. Douglas.

AWFUL DROUGHT IN THE EAST.

VEGETATION LITERALLY BURNED UP

In June the Prospect Was for a Crop Like That of 1891, But Now All Is Blasted, and Even the Trees, Are Dying—Will Atwater Be Re-Nominated?—The Climatology for July.

Special Correspondence of The Telegram.

Raleigh, August 21.—Your correspondent returned yesterday from a trip to Morehead City. Almost all the way it was pitiful to see the crops, sun-scorched and withered, with whole fields of cotton nearly all open, with tiny bolls and brown and withered leaves; corn so burned that even the fodder is worthless. In the sandy lands the suffering is the greatest. No where in the 150 miles of journey was the spectacle worse than in Lenoir county. The peninsular on which Newb rne is situated has had plenty of rain and is like a garden; perhaps the most fortunate place in the State.

The loss by the drought must be millions in the State. In June the prospect was for a crop like that of 1891, which so delighted the farmers. Then came the July drought, to be followed by the yet more terrible one of August, which in most localities is yet unbroken. Many farmers declare they wish they had not used any commercial ferterlizers this year, as the result was to make the cotton less able to endure the intense heat. It is telling a plain truth to say that the heat is worse than the drought A sun temperature of 130 to 135 degrees day after day litterally slays the crops.

The rains are in streaks. Commissioner of Agriculture Patterson says this is the feature of July and August. He says that in the mountains the conditions are of this sort also.

The air quivers with heat in the east. Miles upon miles of pine forest and of swamp are aflame. Saturday some miles from the shore, near Beaufort, the mighty cloud of smoke was seen, at least 50 miles in length. Swamps never before dry are so now, and streams have failed in all directions Wells are dry and there is almost a water famine in some sections. On the Aberdeen and Asheboro Railway one train has been discontinued, owing to the scarcity of water, and shippers are notified that it may be necessary to discontinue all trains. Into the very shores of the sounds and the sea the crops are burned up. In Beaufort county corn is damaged 30 to 40 per cent. and in Pitt the tobacco is injured three-fifths. A great many trees are dying; both large and small.

The State crop report for August is being prepared for issue tomorrow. It will not make a good showing; far from it, in fact.

There is much interest felt here in the Democratic Congressional convention, mainly as to whether John W. Atwater shall or shall not be re-nominated. His friends say it is an old rule here to re-nominate. His opponents say he is not a Democrat, but a Populist, who two years ago was the Democratic support in order to defeat Jenkins, the Fusion nominee. His friends say he did great and continuous work during the recent campaign, particularly in Chatham and Nash, two danger-spots. His opponents declare it will never do to nominate any one other than a straight Democrat like Ed. W. Pou or F. S. Spruill. And so the merry war goes on.

The commissioner of agriculture says that all of the commissioners of agriculture and State chemists in the cotton States will attend the convention here next week, and that United States Secretary of Agriculture Wilson will attend. A tour for the delegates is being planned and handsome badges have been prepared for them. The Southern Passenger Association gives delegates to the association a rate of 1⅓ fares to the convention. All railways in the cotton belt agree to this.

Gideon Morris died very suddenly here last night. During the civil war he was in Company A. 14th, Virginia Infantry, Corse's brigade, A. N. V. He was a native of Richmond, Va. He was at church yesterday morning, apparently in his usual health. He was a member of the local camp of C. V.

Judge Thomas C. Fuller left today for Morehead City.

W. C. Stewart, superintendent of the Soldiers' Home here, is very sick.

Judge Augustus M. Moore, of the eastern criminal circuit, is at Beaufort, and has a severe case of bilious fever.

W. C. Powell, of Savanah, is here. He is a native of Wake county and is one of the 200 North Carolinians in business in Savannah. He has made a fortune in the naval stores business.

Raleigh had a lively wind sto m yesterday afternoon, followed by a rain.

The rifles and other ordanance stores for the equipment of the State guard, have arrived.

The climatology for July for North Carolina, was issued yesterday by the United States weather bureau here. The mean temperature for the State was 79.2 degrees which 1.7 above normal. The eastern mean was 81 5, the central 80.40, northern 75.7. The highest was 83.7 at Washington, the lowest 67.2 at Linville. The highest absolute temperature was 107 at Chapel Hill, the lowest 44 at Linville. The greatest daily range was 42 at Chapel Hil. The average rainfall was 4 04 inches, which is 1.57 below normal, being 3.79 at Hattreras. The greatest monthly total was 9 42 inches at Horse Cove.

The crop report for North Carolina, issued by the government this morning, is not a glowing one. It says that, notwithstanding some improvement in crop conditions caused by local rains over limited areas, the reports of crop correspondents for the week ending last night are generally very unfavorable. Thunder showers occurred on the 13th and 16th, with the most abundant precipitation along a line from Charlotte through Raleigh to Norfolk, Va., but north and south of this line, as well as over the majority of counties near the coast and in the mountain section, very little or no precipitation whatever was reported. Moreover, in those counties where rain did occur its influence was but temporary, and the soil is now as dry as before. The heat has not abated; the mean temperature was again 8 degrees daily above the normal, with maxima from 90 to 100 degrees every day of the week. Practically, therefore, the drought still prevails with almost undiminished intensity, and is extremely distressing over those counties which have received no rain whatever. Plowing for fall crops is impossible; very few turnips have been sown; fodder pulling, however, has made good headway. Cotton is holding out well only on stiff clay lands; all other crops have unquestionably deteriorated very much; the rain of the 16th caused some improvement in places; a large number of correspondents state that cotton bolls are very small and are opening prematurely, and lint from such cotton cannot fail to be short and inferior in quality; fresh blossoms are not forming and shedding continues. All reports agree that the cotton crop, once the most prosperous crop in the State, has been materially cut short by the drought. Picking has commenced and the first new bales have been marketed. Young corn throughout the sections where showers occurred may yield a fair crop under future favorable conditions, but generally the corn crop is now very poor; much fodder has dried up completely before the ears have matured. Tobacco is ripening very fast, and the late crop is not good; cutting and curing have advanced steadily. Peanuts, sweet potatoes and rice do not seem to be doing well, though refreshed by showers here and there. Gardens are practically worthless. Summer apples have been sun-scalded and have dropped considerably; winter apples also are poor, and on the whole the apple crop is inferior, though many counties west of the Blue Ridge report a full and fine crop.

ELOPED WITH HIS MILLINER.

A Salisbury Merchant Tries a Turn Something Like the Dover Doctor, But His Wife Is Hot on His Trail.

Special to Charlotte Observer.

Statesville, Aug. 20.—On last Thursday night a handsome young woman came here on the west-bound vestibule train and registered at Hotel Iredell, as Miss B. Yates, of North Carolina. She spent the night and next day at the hotel. On Friday afternoon a man drove into town and left his horse and buggy at the stables of Kerr & Karcher. He then went to the hotel, and, learning that Miss Yates was there, went up in the hotel parlor and met her. Later in the evening they went driving and returned to supper. The man did not register, but later developments proved that he was Mr. George Fink, a prominent merchant of Salisbury, in whose store Miss Yates had filled a position as milliner for some time. Soon after supper Mr. Fink paid both his and Miss Yates' hotel bills and they left together on the night train for the west, which passes Statesville at 9:30, purchasing tickets for Morganton. The 11 o'clock train on Sunday brought Mrs. Fink here to see something about the matter, her suspicions having been aroused by the departure of her husband and Miss Yates at so nearly the same time. She made known to Mr. Gray, the proprietor of the hotel, her business and a little investigation revealed to her the situation as above related. Mrs. Fink returned to Salisbury on the evening train. When he left Salisbury, Mr. Fink told his wife that he was going to Mooresville to visit relatives for a few days, but instead came direct to Statesville. The horse and buggy are still at the stable here. It has been learned that Mr. Fink and Miss Yates left Morganton yesterday for Knoxville. Mr. Fink had been married about 20 years. His wife did not intimate whether she would pursue her recreant husband or not.

Robert R. Lee at West Point.

(Robert E. Lee Jr., in Frank Leslie's Popular Monthly.)

The first of September, 1852, Colonel Lee was appointed Superintendent of the United States Military Academy at West Point. My memory as to our move from Baltimore is very dim. The family went to Arlington, and remained until our new home at West Point was gotten ready—some time that winter.

My recollections of my father at West Point are fuller and more distinct. He lived in the House which is still occupied by the Superintendent. It was built of stone, large and roomy, with garden, stables. and pasture lots. We, the two youngest children, enjoyed it all greatly. Grace Darlington and Santa Anna were then with us, and many a fine ride have I had with my father in the afternoons, when, released from his office, he would mount his old mare and, with Santa Anna carrying me by his side, take a five or ten mile trot. Though my pony cantered delightfully, my father would make me keep him in a trot, saying that the hammering I got from that gait was good for me. We rode the dragoon seat—no posting—and I used to become very tired, until I got used to it.

My father was the most puntual man I ever knew. He was always ready for family prayers, and at all meal times, and met every engagement, business or social, on the moment. He expected all of us to do the same, and impressed upon us the use and necessity of forming such habits for the convenience of all concerned. I never knew him late for Sunday service at the post chapel. He appeared, in uniform, some minutes before any one else, and would jokingly rally my mother and sisters for being late, or forgetting something at the last moment. When he could wait no longer he would say, "Well, I am off," and march away to church by himself, or with any one of us who was ready. Then he took his seat, well up in the middle aisle, and, as I remember, he got always very drowsy during the sermon, and sometimes caught a little nap. At that time this drowsiness of my father's seemed something to me. I knew that it was very hard for me to keep awake, and frequently I did not; but why he, who, who I believed could do everything that was right without any effort, should sometimes be overcome I could not understand, and did not try to do.

QUESTIONS ANSWERED.

Yes, August Flower still has the largest sale of any medicine in the civilized world. Your mothers and grandmothers never thought of using anything else for indigestion or biliousness. Doctors were scarce, and they seldom heard of appendicitis, nervous prostration or heart failure, etc. They used August Flower to clean out the system and stop fermentation of undigested food, regulate the action of the liver, stimulate the nervous and organic action of the system, and that is all they took when feeling dull and bad with headaches and othaches. You only need a few doses of Green's August Flower, in liquid form, to make you satisfied there is nothing serious the matter with you. For sale by Grissom & Fordham.

WATER--TUBE WELLS.

There has not been in years a question connected with the sanitary problems of cities that has commanded more serious thought, painstaking research, and careful investigation than that of supplying pure drinking water. This activity in the interest of pure water was augmented by the discovery that infected water is the most prolific source of disease, especially typhoid, and that with the ordinary modes of supply there was no guarantee that water found to be pure today might not be tomorrow thoroughly infected with typhoid germs. With this knowledge came a renewed desire for pure water, and water that could be guaranteed pure all the time. The larger cities have settled these problems in various ways. Where the question of money was not a consideration the best means of filtration and sterilization could be used. But with the smaller cities and towns, especially in the South, the problem is unsolved.

There are three things to be guarded against, neither of which is done in a system like that prevailiug in Greensboro, Charlotte, and other towns of North Carolina. The first and most difficult, of course, is to guarantee that the water shall not be liable to infection by disease germs, the next that it shall be free from an overamount of vegetable matter in solution, and the last, that there shall be no possibility of such defilement as that which occurred in Charlotte a few days ago. We do not see that, even with a filter, either of these things are thoroughly guaranteed against where the supply is obtained from an open pond or a stream. As an absolute prevention against them all we believe the tube well the best thing yet. When a hole is drilled perpendicularly into the ground for one or two thousand feet and water forced from the bottom of it, there is danger of neither vegetable matter, typhoid germs, nor polution by fishermen. Then the costly system of filtration is unnecessary and water free from surface solutions is obtained, which, when taken into the system is capable of performing the functions for which water is intended. There is an objection to tube wells on the ground that water is not obtainable in some sections. But where it is or is not obtainable is not known till it is tried.

In the renominatiou of Congressman Bellamy by the Democrats of the Sixth District the State is assured of another Congressman that will be an ornament rather than a draw back at the National capital. In the nomination of Mr. W. C. Dowd as elector the same district will have a strong and vigorous campaigner, and one in thorough sympathy with the Kansas City platform. If we remember correctly, Mr. Dowd was a silver man before the doctrine became as popular as it has since been.

General Julian S. Carr spoke at a reunion of soldiers at Wilkesboro last week and is reported to have made a formal announcement of his candidacy for the United States senatorship from "the east," and that he would appreciate the support given him by his friends in the November primary. If this report is correct we congratulate Gen. Carr for coming out in the open and saying what he wants. This matter of being in the hands of one's friends has played out.

Congratulates Greensboro's Effort Toward Cleanliness.

Charlotte Observer.

We congratulate Greensboro upon having adopted an anti-spitting ordinance. She will find it promotive of cleanliness. It has worked well in Charlotte, but is not as carefully observed as when first adopted. The violation of it is, no doubt, more frevuently than otherwise the result of thoughtlessness, but it would not be amiss for the police to keep their eyes open and occasionally warn a violator.

THE RUN ON THE BANK.

The Youngsters Appeared to be After Breaking the Savings Bank This Morning but Everthing Came Out All O. K'—Who Got the Big Prize.

Way before the Peoples' Savings Bank was opened this morning the boys and girls holding checks on The Telegram Childrens' Bank began coming up, and they looked all the world like frightened depositors clamoring at the door of their bank, when they are expecting it to break.

Mr. Hodgin and Mr. Reynolds had to carry on their regular morning business and to accommodate the rush of eager, anxious boys and girls they called in Mr. Erle Scarboro, of The Telegram, and made him a temporary bank official. He and Mr. Reynolds were kept busy well up till twelve o'clock, when the rush slackened. Some straggling checks have not been presented yet.

The young bank runners were an interesting crowd as they gathered at the bank. There was nervous expectation before the checks were presented, and then fun and laughing as some one who was dead sure of drawing the $2 prize got only a penny. The girls charged that the boys got all the best prizes and that they got only pennies, woman like, ignoring the fact that one of the sex drew the big prize. We do not have space today to publish the names of all of the happy crowd who presented checks. We give only those who were the successiul ones in drawing the bigger prizes. These were as follows:

First prize, $2, Nellie Brooks, aged nine, daughter of Mr. R. W. Brooks.

Second prize, 50 cents, Margaret Dupuy.

Third prize, 25 cents each, Douglas Hendrix, Leroy Wilhoit, Penlie Moffit, and Mary Porter.

Fourth prize, 10 cents each, Clarence Cutchin, Luther Albertson, Arthur Coffin, Richard Hawkins, Luther Proctor, Joe Spivey, William Twitt, Ida Smith.

Fifth prize, 5 cents each, Marion Attebury, Charlie Wheeler, Banks Holt Mebane, Robert Whitaker, Waldo Porter, Viola Medearis, Nettie Kirkman, Ella Whitaker, Agnes Gales.

Negroes Arrested for Swearing.

Some of the negroes employed around the Southern passenger station have a habit of making themselve generally obnoxious by swearing and using vulgar and obscene language. Yesterday evening Officer Whitington caught four of them swearing in the colored waiting room, and this morning he procured a warrant for their arrest. They were given a hearing in the Police Court this afternoon.

A Cruel Joke.

A Yale Summit girl recently played a cruel joke on her mother, and this is how it happened: She accidentally found a love letter that her father had written to her mother in the halycon days of their courtship. She read the letter to her mother, substituting her own name and that of her lover. The mother raved with anger and stamped her foot in disgust, forbidding her daughter to have anything to do with a man who would write such nonsensical stuff to a girl. The girl then gave the letter to her mother to read, and the house became so suddenly quiet that she could hear the cat winking in the back yard.—Saltsbury Press.

This cut represents a Home Savings Bank safe. The little safes are oxidized and coppered steel boxes 4 by 3 by 2 inches in size, with three tumbler lock and made to resist great force.

The Southern Loan and Trust Company has arranged to loan them free of charge to any person desiridg to open a savings account.

Money deposited in these safes can be taken ont only at our office (where the keys are kept) and when brought to us the amount is counted in your presence and placed to your credet on your pass book. 4 per cent interest, beginning the first day of any month succeeding the deposit, will be allowed on all deposits amounting to $5.00 and upwards provided they are continued for three full months.

ITS ADVANTAGES: You have in your home a bank always open for deposits. You can drop in small amounts you would not take to any bank, thus preventing you from spending it; as money kept loosely near at hand affords a continuous temptation to waste it. You cannot shake or get it out, as we hold the key; consequently do what you ought to, bring or send the bank to us, have its contents counted before you and placed to your credit with us, where it will be a continual reminder to you to add more to it. Many persons waste in life enough money to make them independent. DEPOSITORS WILL PLEASE NOTICE that any sums of money that they may not wish to deposit in the small bank safe may be brought to the office of the Trust Company and deposited on their pass books the same as on any ordinary savings account.

☛ Money deposited on or before September 1st, bears interest from that date.

is where we stand in the lumber business. At the kicking post, as it were, in regard to prices.

First comes the owner of the timber. He just woke up to the value of it and wants double last year's prices. Then the sawmill man. He has not been making a fortune and thinks now he should share a little in the general prosperity

They say to us: "We must have so much for our trees and work." After a while it is "up to you." Don't kick. You don't suppose we have nerve enough to put up prices unless they had first been put up on us. No, indeed. But prices are NOT high. They have been to low and are just now getting reasonable. Your children will be glad to build at double the price it now costs you. It is a trite, but true saying, if you want to build, "Now is the time."

And ours is the place to get the stuff.

Currant Jelly.

Use good, ripe currants. Pick out all the leaves (do not stem them), wash thoroughly and put them in a porcelain kettle. Cover the kettle and set it back on the range where the berries will get hot, but not boil. In about an hour the currants will have swelled and many have burst. Now mash and strain through a flannel jelly bag. To each pint of juice allow one pound of powdered sugar, but do not add the sugar yet. Boil the juice just 20 minutes; then add the sugar with a wooden or silver spoon, stirring carefully until it is all dissolved. Have jelly glasses ready, fill and set away to cool. When cold, cut white tissue paper to fit the inside of the glass, dip the paper in brandy and spread it over the jelly and put on the lid.

To Cleanse the Hair With Egg.

Separate the yolk of a fresh egg from every particle of white and beat it up with a wineglassful of tepid water. Rub this well into the skin of the head, wash off with plenty of warm water and rinse with cold. This is said to make the hair beautifully bright and soft and thoroughly clean.

ORIGINALITY IN "ADS."

The art of advertising has a few fixed rules. People read "ad s" not for amusement, but to secure information; and the man who has a house, a medicine or any kind of merchandise to sell or services to offer to the public does the most essential thing when he says so simply, directly and persistently. Still, there is always room for originality, and if he have a new idea as to how to display and arrange his announcements so as to arrest people's attention and make an enduring impression he is bound to profit thereby. New ideas in advertising will be in demand so long as they shall not violate the rules of simplicity and lucidity.

Shop Newly Equipped

I have just completed equipping my shop with power and machinery for doing all classes of repair and new work. I am now amply prepared for doing heavy wood work, and also heavy forging. When in need of any kind of repairs very often the time saved by having it done promptly will pay for the same; and besides machinery does work better and cheaper than muscle.

I am now prepared to build on short notice any kind of a wagon you may want—a heavy dray, light spring wagon, or a farm wagon.

JOHNNY CORBETT BAD.

Bright Spot in the Dingy Court Room Is Sister May--She Has to Take Mother's Place Because Mother's Paralyzed--Catholic Protectory in View For Wicked Johnny.

New York Sun.

Down the broad aisle between the seats in the West Side police court, with their crowd of unkempt and dingy loungers, yesterday came a pretty little girl with a pleasant smile. There were red poppies in the straw hat that topped her bright face and light muslin dress. In one hand she held a big blue umbrella, and by the other she led a neatly dressed boy who was just a bit taller than the umbrella. She wasn't timid a bit, but walked right up to the gate of the enclosure in front of the bench. Magistrate Cornell stopped frowning over a troublesome case and the countenance of Policeman Rheinhardt, the big bluecoat at the gate, lit up with a smile that transfigured him so that some of the folks who pass him there mightn't have recognized him.

"Well, my little girl," he said, "what is it you want?"

"Please, Mister," said the little girl, smiling back at him, "I want to commit my brother here. He's a bad boy—aren't you, Johnny?"

The little boy nodded Then he grinned. "Mommer says I am," he ventured.

"Well, I'll be blessed," ejaculated the policeman.

"Johnny's bad," his small sponsor went on to explain, "an' mamma can't tend to him, so we decided he'd better be committed. Johnny wants to go to the Catholic Protectory. It's nice there—isn't it Johnny?" Johnny nodded again and the little girl smiled again. Everybody in the court room had seen the couple by this time. Two sturdy Irish women, who had been shouting at each other and at the Magistrate up on the bridge, stopped short. Magistrate Cornell stood up to take a good look at Johnny and his sister. Then he told the policeman to put the little ones in vacant chairs at the reporter's table. The girl sat down, still holding on tight to Johnny's hand and the blue umbrella. Agent Barclay of the Gerry society happened to be in court and he went over to the table to see what the trouble was.

"Tell me all about it dear," he said, and the little girl told! She was May Corbett, 11 years old, she said, and Johnny was 10. They lived with their mother at 220 West Sixty-first street and they wanted Johnny "looked after better."

"Can't your mamma take care of him?" asked Agent Barclay.

"No," said the little girl. "He don't obey her. He goes out on the street and plays with the boys."

"But why can't she come here to tell us this?" asked the Gerry agent.

"She's got the paralysis," said the child.

"Where's your father?" asked Barclay.

"He's dead."

Her mother, May said, had been in bed seven months, and her big sister died three months ago. "Brother Bob," worked at the College of Physicians and Surgeons in West Fifty-ninth street. She explained that she had been to the Gerry society rooms and from there had been sent to the court. She produced a letter instructing Agent Kuhu, the society's representative at the court, to investigate the case thoroughly and to do what he could for the children. Just then Kuhu came in.

"Don't talk to 'em rough," said policeman Rheinbardt to the agent. "Ain't they a nice little pair of children though?"

Kuhu's voice is usually rougher than he means it to be, but he didn't need any warning when he saw May's smile. He took May and Johnny upstairs to his room and the magistrate and the court officials watched the pair and the big blue umbrella go out of the door, and then returned to business. The agent is likely to report the result of his inquiries to-day.

When Laundering Shirt Waists.

Your irons must be intensely hot and perfectly clean. You will require two kinds, the ordinary iron and the regular polishing iron with its rough surface. With the ordinary iron run lightly over both sides of your collar to remove the outward dampness. Then with the polishing iron and your whole weight polish swiftly and deftly the right side until the collar is dry and a bright gloss is the result. To remove this gloss, if a domestic finish be desired, run a damp cloth lightly and quickly over it.—Emma Louise Hauck Rowe in Woman's Home Companion.

splendid pole vaulter and jumper and is now practicing for the track and field championships of the A. A. U., which will be held next September. Reuss is also a crack swimmer and water poloist.

Four Champions to Meet.

Four of the champion riders now in this country will meet in a big 15 mile motor paced race for big prize money Saturday, Aug. 4. The men are already signed, and two of the riders will meet for the first time this season and settle a much disputed question of supremacy. Johnnie Nelson is regarded by about all of the leading critics as the champion middle distance performer, and his great rival is Archie McEachern. They will ride in this event. The other two entries are Bill Stinson and Starbuck.

The meet will be held in conjunction with the carnival and fair of Boston lodge of Elks. It is intended to make the other events of the same high quality as the big special feature. The amateur events are half mile novice, half mile open and one mile handicap. The professional race is a three mile motor tandem for pacemakers and, like the big race, is an invitation. It will be scratch, and the prizes are $100, $60 and $40. For the specially featured race the prizes are $250, $150, $125 and $75.

The Youngest Golfer.

It is hard to determine who should be given the credit of being the youngest aspirant for golfing honors. It is much like the discussion over the youngest Juliet on the stage. The latest item declares that a diminutive paragon, known as Harry Wyman Swett, has the honor of being the youngest golfer in the country, and though barely 3 years old is much interested in the game. He became enthusiastic over golf by watching the players on the Franklin park links, where his grandfather is a frequent visitor. He begged to be allowed to play, and his grandfather induced Willie Campbell to make him two wooden clubs, a driver and a putter, each about 18 inches long. Of course he is not allowed to go over the regular course, but he is a daily visitor to the park, and, with his grandfather, who acts as caddie, somewhat reversing the order of things, he plays over a short course that has been laid out for his special benefit.

A Wonderful Trick Jumper.

Billy Roche, the well known manager of boxers, has departed from his usual line and taken under his care a trick jumper. Larry LeRoy is the fortunate man, and Roche says that LeRoy can do more trick jumping backward than any man in the usual manner. Roche is looking for a match for LeRoy and is willing to bet any amount that his man will defeat all comers.

As a jumper, LeRoy is in the front rank, and some of his tricks seem almost impossible. He puts a basket of eggs on top of an ordinary table, places a bell on top of the eggs, and in jumping over the table he lands lightly on top of the bell, ringing it, and then makes another leap and lands on the floor without breaking an egg.

Jumping in and out of barrels while balanced on a spade seems easy to him. He can jump over four chairs placed in a row with two lighted candles on the last one and extinguish the candles with his feet while in the air.

Though a man declares himself an atheist it in no way alters his obligations.—H. W. Beecher.

CATARRH

Catarrh has become such a common disease that a person entirely free from this disgusting complaint is seldom met with. It is customary to speak of Catarrh as nothing more serious than a bad cold, a simple inflammation of the nose and throat. It is, in fact, a complicated and very dangerous disease; if not at first, it very soon becomes so.

The blood is quickly contaminated by the foul secretions, and the poison through the general circulation is carried to all parts of the system.

Salves, washes and sprays are unsatisfactory and disappointing, because they do not reach the seat of the trouble. S. S. S. does. It cleanses the blood of the poison and eliminates from the system all catarrhal secretions, and thus cures thoroughly and permanently the worst cases.

Mr. P. H. McAllister, of Harrodsburg, Ky., writes: "Having been a terrible sufferer from Catarrh, and being now sound and well, the question often put to me is, 'What cured you?' In answer I feel it my duty to state that Swift's Specific is the medicine. I am such a true believer in the efficacy of Swift's Specific that I can honestly and conscientiously recommend it to any one suffering from Catarrh. Have recommended it to many, and am happy to say that those whom I have induced to use it can bear me out in the statement that it will cure any case of Catarrh if taken according to directions."

SSS is the only purely vegetable blood purifier known, and the greatest of all blood medicines and tonics.

If you have Catarrh don't wait until it becomes deep-seated and chronic, but begin at once the use of S. S. S., and send for our book on blood and skin diseases, and write our physicians about your case

BREVITIES

PERSONALITIES.

Ex-President and Mrs. Harrison have gone with their daughter to the Adirondacks, where they will remain until Oct. 1.

Lord Roberts has been in the British army for 49 years, having started in the service in 1851, when he was 20 years old.

Senator Hoar frequently amuses himself by piano playing. He plays well, it is said, but few save his intimate friends have ever heard him.

W. J. Florence, the comedian, once offered $5,000 for a catch phrase about which an American comedy could be written. Nobody supplied the demand.

Great Britain's new minister to Denmark, William Edward Goschen, is a brother of the first lord of the admiralty and was formerly attached to the British legation at Washington.

R. C. Gill, the veteran superintendent of models in the patent office at Washington, has charge of about 400,000 models of United States inventions granted during a period of over a hundred years.

Ali Ferrouh Bey, the Turkish minister to this country, is a regular member of the Washington Fencing club, of which Count Cassini, the Russian ambassador, is president, and is one of its best swordsmen.

Speaker Henderson draws a pension; but, according to L. G. Hurd, his Dubuque law partner, the amount he receives hardly keeps him in artificial legs. These he wears out about as quickly as the ordinary man uses up a pair of shoes.

There have been a number of young governors in Illinois. Ninian Edwards, executive of Illinois when it was a territory, was only 34 when appointed; Governor Coles was 36 when inaugurated, Governor French was 38, and Governor Hamilton was 36.

Mr. Wu Ting Fang, the Chinese minister to the United States, declares himself afraid of the American woman with dead birds and animals on her hat. "In China we keep our birds; we do not kill them." Thus spake the heathen to a Christian people.

Charlotte Bronte's widower, the Rev. Arthur B. Nichols, is now over 80 years of age and spends most of his time in attending to his land business at Banagher, Ireland. Though married again, he always observes the anniversaries of his first wife's birth and death.

Speaker James J. Myers of the Massachusetts legislature still lives in the quarters he occupied while a student at Harvard. These are a suit of rooms in Wadsworth House, near the old gate. In the building have lived many Harvard presidents, and Mr. Myers' study was once Washington's reception room.

THE GLASS OF FASHION.

The pretty linen gauzes plaided off with silk and satin stripes are charming.

Riding habits are seen with little half tight fitting coats, tight fitting pique vests and plastron or chemisette of tucked batiste.

Homespun is having a pleasant little period of popularity this year. It is a sensible, practical goods, excellent for traveling, and many traveling gowns are to be seen of it.

The tints in cloth gowns seem to be lighter even than they were in the early spring, and now there is an ice color which is indescribable, a delicate green and the faintest tint of pink, which make charming gowns for cool days.

Little collarettes of lace and mousseline plaitings, with long scarf ends, are very much worn and seem to fill the place of the fancy boas. They are simply a yoke with ruffles attached and finished around the neck with plaitings of lace.

Cloths in pale colors are used for driving coats, with a tight fitted basque in the back. The fronts slope off a little from below the bust, and large double revers and collar of white silk and lace are the finish above a white silk vest fastened with silver buttons.

A pretty gown for a young girl is made of a rich red homespun. The skirt is made plain and stitched, and the short little spencer jacket shows the broad black satin folded belt, which is almost a bodice in itself, and a long black satin scarf is worn over a white blouse.

ORCHARD AND GARDEN.

Grapes are ripe as soon as the end of the stem is ripe or brownish.

Generally the cherry after being fairly started to grow needs no pruning.

Rob any tree of its foliage during the growing season and the tree is greatly reduced in vitality thereby.

It should always be remembered that whatever tends to build up or promote the general health and thrift of the trees will also aid materially in keeping them free from disease.

When the apples begin to drop off from the trees is the best time for turning the sheep or hogs into the orchard. Both will be benefited and a large number of insect pests be destroyed.

Strawberry rust is shown by spots on the leaves. One of the best remedies is to mow the vines and weeds as soon as the crop is picked and burn them or scatter straw over the top and burn.

There are no short cuts in fruit growing. Good trees must be selected and set out and well cared for, so as to secure a good, thrifty growth, and in due time they will bear fruit.—St. Louis Republic.

"Clock Golf."

"Clock golf" is becoming popular as a variation of the game, and it is especially commended for the good practice it gives in putting. Any smooth lawn will do for the layout, which consists of a chalked circle marked with metal numbers like the face of a clock. The numerals are pressed into place and held by small clamps on the underside. The hole is made of regulation size, between the center of the circle and the circumference—appearing like the keyhole in the clock face—and thus a different distance is obtained between each hour and the hole. The circle may be either 24 or 48 feet in diameter. The number of strokes taken to hole out from each hour point, beginning at "1 o'clock," constitutes the score.

His Game.

Let golfophiles delight to air
Their putter-niblick learning,
And, scarlet coated, swipe and swear
When summer sun is burning!
Let artful cards sit up and pass
Their nights in playing bolo,
But let me gambol—o'er the grass—
And make my game at polo!

On chequered chessboards students gaze,
O'er futile moves oft grieving;
With knights content to pass their days
And constant checks receiving.
Mid kings and queens I have no place,
Episcopari nolo;
I'd rather o'er the greensward race
And find no check in polo!

Then let me have my supple steed,
Good tempered, uncomplaining,
So sure of foot, so rare in speed,
In perfect polo training.
And let me toast in rare old port,
In Heidseick or Barolo,
In shandygaff or something short,
The keen delights of polo!

ROBBED THE GRAVE.

A startling incident, of which Mr John Oliver, of Philadeldhia, was the subject, is narrated by him as follows; "I was in a most dreadful condition tion. My skin was almost yellow, eyes sunken, tongue coated, pain continually in back and sides; no appetite—gradually growing weaker day by day. Three physicians had given me up. Fortunately, a friend advised trying Electric Bitters: and to my great joy and surprise, the first bottle made a decided improvement. I continued their use for three weeks and am now a well man. I know they saved my life, and robbed the grave of another victim." No one should fail to try them. Only 50 cents per bottle at C. E. Holton's drug store.

AROUND TOWN.

Things That Have Happened in Greensboro Since Yesterday.

Mr. J. R. Donnell is making some improvements on his premises on Gorrell Street.

There will be a Sunday school picnic at Buffalo Presbyterian church tomorrow.

The train from Mt. Airy was three-quarters of an hour late today, caused by a defective engine.

Mr. William Jennings, of the Cape Fear Manufacturing Company, found a loaded bomb shell yesterday.

Several young men came up from the eastern part of the State today on their way to Oak Ridge Institute, the fall term of which opens tomorrow.

Rev. A. A. Little, of Steel Creek, will assist in the revival meeting at Westminster church, instead of Rev. Lacy Little, as announced in yesterday's paper.

Many people are entirely too careless when riding a bicycle, especially on the main streets of the city. A little child was run over by a reckless rider on South Elm today. Fortunately it was not badly injured.

The Charlotte Observer congratulates Greensboro upon having adopted an anti-spitting ordinance, saying it will be found promotive of cleanliness. The Observer says a similar ordinance has worked well in Charlotte.

Goldsboro correspondence of Raleigh Post: Prof. T. E. Whitaker, of Oak Ridge, instrnctor in shorthand, made a flying visit to this section and will accompany a number of young men to this most excellent seat of learning.

Wanted the Town to Provide for Them.

The wife of Street Preacher Moore, who was sentenced to the roads yesterday for making a nuisance of himself, went before the Mayor this morning and asked that the town support the family while her husband was serving out his sentence. Inasmuch as Moore has not a reputation for liberality in providing for his family, Mayor Taylor could not see where the wife and children were any worse off, and consequently they were not made wards of the city.

Arrested in Danville.

A telegram received by Chief Scott last night announced that a man answering the description of the thief who robbed Mr. W. V. Ruth of $180 here Saturday night had been arrested and was being held in Danville. Mr. Ruth left on the first train for Danville to identify the man, but so far nothing has been heard from him, and it is not known whether the Danville officers have the right person.

Interesting Talk on Temperance.

The Epworth League of West Market Street church held a very interesting meeting last night. Mrs. Mary E. Cartland was present and made a splendid talk on temperance, which was enjoyed and appreciated by those present. The congregation was very good, being somewhat larger than usual.

MRS. F. E ROSS, Treas.

The Little Scholar.

"Six and two and four and three—
How these sums do puzzle me!
Five and seven, nine and eight—
Figures right across my slate!
Such a bright and sunny day
Is the very time for play.
How I wish that school were done!
Quickly to the fields I'd run."

"Come, in earnest now begin,"
Speaks a little voice within.
"Those who do their best indeed
Surely shall at last succeed.
Eva, Eva, idlers never
Can grow worthy, wise or clever.
Whether work be great or small,
Child, be faithful still in all."

The Tiger's Fear.

Bobby—I wonder why the tiger doesn't lie down and go to sleep once in awhile?

Nurse—I am sure I don't know, Bobby.

Bobby—Do you suppose he's afraid he will turn into a rug if he does?

The Oldest City.

Damascus is said to be the oldest city in the world, dating back 4,000 years. Its present population is 200,000, a tenth being Christians. The mosques are numerous, there being more than 50.
